

The Times Dispatch SPORTING SECTION

WHOLE NUMBER 17,361.

RICHMOND, VA., SUNDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1906.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

SCENES IN GAME BETWEEN TECHS AND TARHEELS HERE YESTERDAY.

TWENTY THOUSAND SEE PRINCETON WIN FROM FAST CORNELL

Ithacans, Active and Light, Work Forward Pass With Telling Effect, Dismaying Princeton Adherents to No Little Degree—Rules Cleverly Handled.

PRINCETON'S BRAWN, COUPLED WITH CLEVERNESS, WON DAY

NEW YORK, October 27.—Princeton won a hard-fought battle with Cornell in the football game at the Ithaca grounds today. The score was 12 to 6, but there was little in those figures to indicate the greater part of the playing period, which was of about thirty minutes each.

Towards the end of the second half Princeton brawn and condition told, and the ball was there most of the time. Cornell started with a rush, and within five minutes of the beginning of the game had scored a touchdown by clever adoption of the new rules, which permitted forward passes and on-side kicks. Twenty thousand enthusiasts crowded the stands and there was not an inch of standing room at the lower end of the grounds, where ropes had been stretched to keep the crowd back.

Worked Forward Pass.
Cornell started right out at the kick-off, and for a time had the Princeton adherents in dismay. The Ithacans were somewhat better than their opponents, and played in open game throughout the first half, gaining both around the ends and with the forward pass, which was worked with telling effect, but which also was made ineffective through fumbling. Cornell also had the good luck to come out much better than Princeton in this fumbling, which was not little, and profited considerably through the penmanship of Princeton.

Fumbling Was Costly.
Cornell's touchdown was made by Vander and Cook kicked the ball to Williams, who was thought to be a goal by almost everyone present. There was a notable moment at the end of the half when the referee announced that the ball had not gone between the posts.
Princeton's first touchdown came unexpectedly, and was due to the fumbling of a Cornell player. Wister took the ball over and Cooney kicked goal.
The second touchdown was the result of straight-down-the-field work. A few minutes later Princeton scored a ground goal, which it was scored before the game would count two points, the same as a safety, and at the end of play the ball was in the center of the field.

WILLIAMS HAD BEST OF GAME

Springs Surprise on Dartmouth by Getting Best of Annual Contest.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., October 27.—Though there was no scoring done in the annual game between Williams and Dartmouth played here today for the first time, Williams sprang a big surprise by having the best of the battle. As an exhibition of football, the game was a credit affair. Williams claims she should have won 10 to 0, but the officials ruled that what Williams claimed was a safety should go as a touchback. Only once did Dartmouth show a match of her last year's form, and that was when she held Williams for downs,

CARLISLE EASILY DEFEATS PENNSY

Most Unexpected Upset in Football on Franklin Field—Score 24 to 6.

PHILADELPHIA, October 27.—One of the most unexpected upsets in football occurred today on Franklin Field, when the Carlisle Indians defeated the University of Pennsylvania eleven by the score of 24 to 6. The light Indians, trained to the minute, simply bewildered the Quakers, who were disorganized, and put in full retreat before the game was over.

One of the largest crowds of the year saw the game, the attendance reaching 22,000.
The Indians made their twenty-four points with a goal from the field, three touchdowns and a safety. Pennsylvania's six points were scored by a touchdown and a goal. All told, four touchdowns were made, but not one of them was earned.
The direct cause of Pennsylvania's defeat was the inability of the back field to handle punts. All of the Indians' scores, with the exception of the field goal by Libbey, were due directly to this fault.

BARNUM AND BAILEY WILL DISBAND HERE

It has been definitely learned that after the performance here in November Barnum & Bailey's big circus will be disbanded in this city. The date for the arrival of the show has not been definitely settled yet, but it is certain to be here during next month.

The disbanded of the circus here will mean that hundreds of people from all parts of the Union will be discharged, and that the agents of the railroad companies will have to make plans for transportation from this city. The task of hauling the employees of the circus will not be enviable.

The tents, props and animals with the show will be shipped from Richmond to the winter quarters of the circus in Connecticut.

SCHUMANN TO PLAY ON LITTLE ROCK TEAM

News reached the city yesterday that "Big" Schumann, who made a record with the Portsmouth baseball team last summer, and who finished up the season with Connie Mack's Athletics, has signed for next season with the Little Rock, Ark., team.
It was stated that Mike Finn, manager of the Little Rock team, had purchased Schumann from the Athletics. Although in faster company than the Virginia League Schumann will certainly make good with his new mates.

V. P. I. CADET CORPS AT FOOTBALL GAME.

A BIG SURPRISE TO VIRGINIA TEAM

Richmond College Holds Varsity to Two Touchdowns at Charlottesville.

FINAL SCORE TWELVE TO SIX

Miller, Richmond's Left Tackle,
Sprints Forty-Five Yards for a Touchdown.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 27.—Richmond College, which Virginia defeated 22 to 0 early in the season, held Virginia to two touchdowns today, and surprised the Varsity by netting six points on a fluke, the final score being 12 to 6.

All the scoring was done in the first half, before the visitors had hardly settled down. Staifer and Captain Johnson had gotten away for long runs, the latter crossing the goal line one minute after play had begun. Ten minutes later Cooke waded through the left side of Richmond College's line for the second touchdown.

Just before the first half was concluded the Collegians made their only points with the ball on Richmond College's fifty-yard line. Mench punted to past midfield. Randolph, Virginia's quarterback, misjudged the ball, which took an ugly bound and fell into the arms of Miller, Richmond's left tackle, who with a quick dash, sprinted forty-five yards for a touchdown.

Encouraged by this touchdown, Richmond College went into the second half with renewed energy, and by hard work, assisted by some rank fumbling by Randolph, prevented her goal line from being crossed again in the twenty minutes of play. On three occasions, the visitors made the necessary ten yards by line-punching.

Virginia's work, on the whole, was very ragged, in marked contrast to the past three contests played here.

Three attempts were made to land goals from placements, but neither Captain Johnson or Randolph could turn the trick. It seemed comparatively easy to make good end runs when in mid-

FOOTBALL RESULTS

At Philadelphia: Indiana, 24; University of Pennsylvania, 6.
At Ann Arbor, Mich.: Michigan, 28; Illinois, 9.

At West Point: Harvard, 5; West Point, 0.

At New York: Princeton, 14; Cornell, 5.

At New Haven, Conn.: Yale, 12; Amherst, 0.

At Springfield, Mass.: Dartmouth, 0; Williams, 0.

At Chicago: Chicago, 33; Indiana, 8.

At St. Paul, Minn.: Minnesota, 22; Ames, 4.

At Charlottesville: University of Virginia, 12; Richmond College, 6.

At Easton, Pa.: Lafayette, 17; Colgate, 6.

At Washington, D. C.: Georgetown, 8; Washington and Lee, 5.

At Washington, D. C.: George Washington, 8; Western Maryland, 5.

At St. Louis: St. Louis University, 71; Missouri School of Mines, 0.

At Brunswick, Maine: Bates, 6; Bowdoin, 4.

At Orono, Maine: Tufts, 6; University of Maine, 0.

At Andover, Mass.: Harvard Freshmen, 6; Phillips-Andover, 0.

At Providence, R. I.: Brown, 27; Norwich, 4.

At Middletown, Conn.: Wesleyan, 22; Vermont, 8.

At Exeter, Exeter, 5; Colby, 0.

At Durham, N. Y.: New Hampshire State College, 40; Connecticut State College, 0.

At Worcester, Mass.: Holy Cross, 29; Technology, 0.

At South Bethlehem: Lehigh, 33; Franklin and Marshall, 0.

At Swarthmore: Swarthmore, 19; Gettysburg, 4.

At Haverford: Haverford, 23; Ursinus, 17.

At Richmond: V. P. I., 0; North Carolina, 0.

At Pittsburgh: Western University of Pennsylvania, 31; Carnegie Tech, 0.

At Washington, Pa.: Washington and Jefferson, 2; Dickinson, 0.

At Hartford, Conn.: Trinity, 6; Springfield Manual Training School, 6.

At Nashville, Tenn.: Vanderbilt, 45; University of Texas, 0.

At Atlanta, Ga.: Georgia Tech, 4; Davidson, N. C. College, 0.

At Annapolis: Naval Academy, 0; Bucknell, 0.

ROANOKE COLLEGE PLAYS THE CADETS

A Very Pretty Game, But Lacking in Spectacular Plays.

THE SCORE SIX TO FIVE

Although V. M. I. Made Largest
Score, the Collegians
Played Best.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, VA., October 27.—Virginia Military Institute this afternoon, on their parade grounds, defeated Roanoke College in a very pretty game by the score of 6 to 5. The game was lacking in spectacular features. Roanoke scored in the first half, however, quarter back, catching a pretty kicked ball and running sixty yards for a touchdown.

In the beginning of the second half, Preston, full back, made a touchdown for V. M. I. by an end run, and Montgomery kicked goal just before time was called at the end of the game.

Roanoke had succeeded in getting the ball, by kicks and runs, to V. M. I.'s twenty-yard line.

Although Virginia Military Institute secured a larger score than Roanoke, the Collegians outplayed the Cadets.

Umpire, Captain Sneed, of V. M. I.; referee, Mr. Bowman, of Roanoke College. Times of halves, twenty minutes each.

Following is the line-up:

V. M. I.	Position	Roanoke
Fraser	left tackle	Stair
Dunbar	left guard	Straine
Hagar	center	Sayer
Montgomery	right guard	Engleby
Fraser	right tackle	Coupler
Nichols	right end	Taney
Foyles	quarter back	Linkower
Massey	left half back	Harnsberger
Byrd	right half back	Conner
Preston	full back	Killey

TEAMS FOUGHT TO TIE IN FAST GAME BEFORE BIG CROWD

Both Weaker Than Last Year, But Carolinians Appeared To Have Better of the Struggle, Though Neither Side Could Score.

CADET CORPS LED BY BAND ROOTED LUSTILY FOR TECHS

With weather conditions as were perfect as a clear blue sky and a crisp breeze from the south, the game was the football game of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the University of North Carolina fought to a tie yesterday at the Broad-Street Park before an enthusiastic crowd of nearly four thousand people. Orange and maroon, the colors of the Techs, and blue and white, the colors of the Tarheels, were the most abundant in the stands for the respective teams, who were lined up on the field for a play. Though there was no score on either side, it is conceded that the Tarheels made the better showing.

The four hundred cadets, with their band of thirty pieces, lent a touch of the military to the already brilliant crowd, and with their war-splashing yell urged the Techs on to victory or defeat. When the ball came near the Techs, the yell was doubled, and the bandmen made frightful noise with their horns.

When Nutter dashed for the goal from the Tech fifteen-yard line, the crowd went wild. It was with difficulty that they could be kept from rushing the field, as it became known that the runner was a fluke, for he turned to gain, and for a moment quiet settled over the Techs.

When the last whistle was blown, the teams took stands on opposite sides of the field, and each gave nine loud yells for the other.

Neither side was able to make substantial gains on the other at any point of the game, and the ball was kept in the middle of the field. While the struggle was exciting from start to finish, it was not until Nutter, of V. P. I., made the pigskin and made a dash of eighty-five yards for a touchdown, that the crowd rose as one man and yelled itself hoarse for the runner. The ball, however, was called back by Referee Whittaker, who had blown the whistle before the Tech captain made his dash.

The forward pass was attempted by both teams, but was successful only once. Carolina tried the pass four times, and on each occasion either lost the ball or failed to pass it five yards outside the line of scrimmage. V. P. I. tried the pass only twice, and was successful once. It was obtained by Carolina men at the time that the ball was not sent five yards out, but the referee was firm in his decision.

In handling kicks and punts V. P. I. was notably weak. Not once did they turn the ball any distance up the field, and three times they lost on a fumble. Carolina was strong in running back punts, failing to do so only once. The back was caught by Nutter, who downed him in his tracks.

Carolina's Fast Work.

Neither side could gain consistently through the line. With their extra weight V. P. I. had like a stone wall, and the punter rarely got more than one yard. Carolina on the other hand, by fast work generally snapped up the runner before he got to the line and threw him for a loss. On stops and runs V. P. I. was weak. The side showed inexperience in breaking the interference and did not stop the plays. Several times runners got beyond the line and made long gains. Carolina was able to stop the plays before they got behind the line, and V. P. I. was always forced to kick.

Both teams showed great weakness in setting out the plays. The formations were slow and the runner was generally held back by the interference. Few fumbles were made, but those were very costly. Carolina lost more by this than did V. P. I.

Mann, McNeill and Story for Carolina, and Nutter, Duffield and Treadwell for V. P. I., were really the stars of the game. In running, tack, punts McNeill made more gains than all the other backs combined. On all except one punt he made four runs, generally taking the ball to the middle of the field. In offensive work, Mann, McNeill and Treadwell played most of the game for the Techs. Treadwell was taken out during the latter part of the game on account of his weakened condition, but until he was removed he played like a hero. He was one of the few who could be depended on to win the end runs, and always got the man with the ball when he came around his side of the line.

Duffield, several times brought the Tarheels to their feet by his work on the defense.

Altogether, the game was not as good as was expected by the enthusiasts, who were prepared to see a contest, as played under the old rules, with the hope that the institutions have been turning out for the past two years. Both teams were below the standard, and showed inexperience and weakness. The plays were quite of very slowly, and the men did not work together as they should.

Absence of Disorder.

The absence of disorder on the grounds was remarkable. The squad of bluesets sent out by Chief Werner were not needed at all. Several disputes arose among the players and officials, but they were soon settled when the book of rules was produced.

When Nutter made his sensational run, a clamor arose from both sides, one of which claimed that the ball had been called down—the other that the ball was fumbled. It was settled, however, as soon as the referee was heard. Some kick was made, too, on the judgment of the forward passes, but it amounted to nothing.

One of the features of the game was the V. P. I. band and roster. "Hoki-hoki" rolled over the field after almost every down, and the cheers for the team and individuals filled the air at all times during the game. Especially when the Carolina team had the ball on V. P. I.'s fifteen-yard line did the cadets root. Weird noises came from the horns of the music players, and the din was deafening. When the ball was kicked out of danger a sigh of relief could almost be heard over the field. During the intermission college airs were played for the cadets to sing.

Blacksburg Girls as Rooters.
Another feature of the game was the rooting of the Blacksburg ladies who accompanied the team. A section in the grandstand had been reserved for them, and their voices made the din on the opposite side less hideous. After the game they went to the Hotel Richmond and

CURRENT EVENTS SEEN THROUGH THE CARTOONIST'S GLASSES

